Senior Energy Resources Analyst: $107,952 to $131,215 annually

About Alameda Municipal Power

In 1887, the City of Alameda paid $20,000 for the installations of 13 streetlights and a 90-kW generating station to power them. And with that, the oldest public electric utility west of the Mississippi was created.

Today, the City of Alameda is still in the power business and still a trendsetter. Now known as Alameda Municipal Power (AMP), we have survived over a century and a quarter of utility mergers that created behemoths in other places.

AMP has provided safe reliable power at lower rates without sacrificing service to power our community. We maintain local control so that we can re-invest in the island and provide value to enrich our lives, businesses, and the community.

We've seen a lot of change in 130 years, but through it all there's been one constant: We're as committed today to delivering safe and reliable electricity to the residents and businesses of Alameda as we were in 1887. We'll continue to invest in new and improved ways of doing business to manage costs, improve our service, and improve the environment.

About the Division/Position

The Energy Resources Planning division has a key role to play in helping Alameda Municipal Power (AMP) provide reliable power, using resources that are cost-competitive and green, while maintaining stable rates.

As part of our team, you will have the opportunity to contribute to a wide array of projects. We are looking for a colleague with exceptional data analysis skills, attention to detail, excellent communication skills, and an interest in learning new skills to meet the ongoing needs of the highly dynamic energy sector.

Energy Resources Analysts may be assigned tasks in many areas, depending on AMP's needs and your skills and interests. Here are some examples of typical job duties:

Forecasting and Planning

- Develop long term demand forecasts, power cost budgets, revenue requirement forecasts to prepare AMP's long term budget
- Develop AMP's long term Integrated Resource Plan; identify supply portfolios to meet long term demand while complying with all regulations under dynamically changing policy landscape

Resource Management

- Develop cost-benefit analyses to guide power procurement decisions
- Develop short term strategies to buy/sell energy and related products
- Evaluate opportunities for local generation; evaluate role of new technologies as part of AMP's supply portfolio

Rate Design and Analysis

- Design rates for different types of customers using cost-of-service analysis
- Design new/modify existing rate schedules to allow for Time-of-Use (TOU) rates, power factor penalties, demand charges

Policy and Compliance

- Maintain Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS) compliance documentation
- Maintain Air Resources Board emissions filings and documentation

Qualifications to Apply

Education:

Both the Energy Resources Analyst and Senior Energy Resources Analyst require a bachelor's degree with major coursework in mathematics, engineering, computer science, business administration, economics, law, or a related field.

Experience:

Energy Resources Analyst requires one year of full-time (or equivalent part time) experience working with spreadsheets and other analytical software applications.

Senior Energy Resources Analyst requires five-years of progressively responsible work with comprehensive utility resource planning, acquisition, and portfolio management.

We will also consider an equivalent combination of education and experience that meets the stated requirements in the job description.

The examination process may test for, but is not limited to, the essential knowledge and abilities listed in the job specification and announcement and will be designed to provide a comprehensive review of each candidate's technical knowledge and overall suitability for the position. Qualified applicants will be notified of the exact date, time, and location of examinations approximately two weeks in advance. If applicants have not received written notice at least one week prior to the tentative test date listed in the flyer, they should contact the City of Alameda Human Resources Department at (510) 747-4900.

Candidates passing all components of the examination process will be placed on an Eligible List. A list of names is certified to the department(s) having vacancies based on the type of examination conducted pursuant to the provision of the City's Civil Service Rules. Final selection will be made from the Eligible List by the Department Head subject to approval by the City Manager. The Department Head may utilize additional selection procedures to make a final hiring decision. Placement on an Eligible List does not guarantee employment. Prior to appointment, a thorough reference check will be conducted which may include a credit check and background. The selection process may be evaluated and revised based on the number of qualified applicants. Federal law requires that prior to employment, you must furnish proof of your identity and eligibility for employment in the United States, as required by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

VETERAN'S PREFERENCE CREDIT: A job applicant qualifies as a veteran if honorably discharged from active military, reservist, or National Guard duty of at least 18 consecutive months within the past five (5) years of the date of application. In case of discharge attributable to service-connected injuries or illnesses, the 18 months active duty requirement need not be fulfilled. An applicant claiming veteran's preference credit must attach to their application, a legible copy of their DD-214 verifying the type of discharge and date(s) of active service. NO OTHER DOCUMENTATION WILL BE ACCEPTED.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER: The City of Alameda encourages minorities, women and the disabled to apply. It is the City's policy that all aspects of employment and promotion shall be without regard to sex, marital status or disability (except where dictated by requirements of the position), race, sexual orientation, political affiliation, religious creed, color, national origin or age. Qualified disabled persons must be able to perform the essential functions of the position with or without reasonable accommodations. No individual may pose a direct threat to the health or safety of himself/herself or other individuals in the workplace. Barring undue hardship, reasonable accommodations can be made in the application and examination process for disabled individuals or for religious reasons. Requests for reasonable accommodation should be made in advance to the Human Resources Department. Hearing Impaired TDD (510) 522-7538.
